BACHELOR’S DEGREE, INDUSTRIAL DESIGN

During the final semester of my Bachelor’s program, my professor suggested that I enter the Bombardier Recreational Products (BRP) International Student Design Competition, hosted by Bombardier. Students from the top six schools in the world compete for the best automotive designs. Luckily, my designs were selected, which were actually the very first automotive designs I created. The intense competition went on for 14 weeks and I was selected in the top ten winners who got the chance to travel on a four-day trip to Finland.

Once in Finland, we went to Arctic Design Week and we got the chance to connect with the leadership of Bombardier and other industry experts at the event. It was great networking with people in my field of interest. There were students from several countries including France and the USA. It was interesting to learn about their perspective of design from a different cultural lens.

Later, I enjoyed staying in an igloo and saw the famous Northern Lights. It was a great experience and has played a crucial role in my personal and professional development.

I was delighted to receive $4,500 from the Barrett Family Foundation Leadership Scholarship for being one of the top ten students in academic performance during my fourth year. Additionally, I received $2,000 annually as part of my program, I interned with Copernicus Educational

Academic Pathways

Whether you want to transfer to Humber, within Humber or out of Humber, we can help you along the way. Choose the best path to accomplish your goals.

TRANSFER IN

If you have completed a similar course at another recognized post-secondary institution, you may be eligible to receive transfer credits toward your Humber program.

TRANSFER WITHIN

Humber supports continuous learning and we have many pathways between credentials to help you find the right program fit. Students who enrol in our diploma programs can transfer into our degree programs and receive partial credit for their previous studies. Please note that a reduction in the length of a study program could influence the length of a student’s post-secondary work permit.

TRANSFER OUT

Humber graduates can continue their academic pathways at other educational institutions internationally or within Canada. Humber partners with many post-secondary institutions throughout Canada and abroad and allows students and graduates to use their Humber credential to gain admission or advanced standing in another program of study.

English for Academic Purposes (EAP) and Diploma, Advertising and Graphic Design

I came to Canada in 2017 and knew very little English. So I signed up for the EAP program in preparation for further education. After I decided to enrol in the Advertising and Graphic Design diploma program here, it was a great fit given my 15-year passion for photography. The program had a required work placement. My internship gave me confidence, which was most important to me. Nobody learns everything in one year. I needed that time to learn and develop my skills.

DIPLOMA, MEDIA & COMMUNICATIONS

When I moved into Humber’s residence, I felt so isolated from people. I didn’t know anyone. Once my program started I quickly made friends with my classmates and really started to enjoy the program I chose.

My program was right for me, and it was my opportunity to learn more - from web design to photography and videography. It has solidified that I had in mind initially, but now I’ve grown in width and depth.

I started looking for a work placement in the Greater Toronto Area and I found a position with Humber’s Government Relations, Marketing and Communications department. I saw this placement as an opportunity to express myself and use the skills I learned in my writing, videography and photography courses. I wanted a platform to showcase what I have to bring to the table, what I have to say and what it’s like seeing the world through my eyes, and I got that.

Everyone has made me feel like a part of the community, and that’s been very encouraging. Next, I want to get into the film industry. There is no growth in staying in my comfort zone. It’s not about the prize; it’s about the journey.

After completing a Master of Business Administration in Marketing, I worked in the financial industry in India for a year. However, feeling limited by my marketing knowledge, I decided to pursue the Marketing Management course at Humber College and came to Canada. Soon after completing my course, I secured an internship at the Toronto Stock Exchange as a marketing and sales analyst. Humber provides hands-on learning opportunities. During the internship, I discovered my interest in sales enablement and was offered a full-time position as a Sales Enablement Analyst.

My program focuses on marketing strategies, consumer behaviour, and brand management, and I enjoyed participating in the practical learning experiences like group projects and case studies. The faculty and staff were approachable and helpful, and the college offered resources such as academic advice, career services and networking opportunities. These resources played a significant role in my academic and professional development.

My dream job is to be the Head of Marketing and use my skills to drive business growth and success for an organization. During my free time, I enjoy playing my ukulele and singing. I am often immersed in the pages of a good book or living my best life as a Marvel fan.

My journey has taught me the importance of taking risks, embracing new experiences and constantly challenging myself to improve. I am excited to see where my passion for marketing and sales enablement takes me.

BACHELOR’S DEGREE, BEHAVIOURAL SCIENCE

Train rides through Finland.

Would I recommend studying abroad, even for only three weeks? ABSOLUTELY. It’s an experience of a lifetime and an extraordinary learning opportunity to immerse yourself into the lifestyle and culture. Things I’ve learned so far:

- Cultural and learning differences between countries and post-secondary institutions.
- Adjusting can be hard, but with other Humber students, students from around the world and the support of staff at Humber and the partner institution, it is much easier!
- Learning from professors from around the world is very beneficial and insightful to understanding many different approaches to learning and solving problems.
- Finland is very quiet and peaceful, and the sun doesn’t set in summer!

Thank you Humber for this opportunity and chance to meet so many other students from around the world.

ONTARIO GRADUATE CERTIFICATE, BUSINESS INSIGHTS AND ANALYTICS

After my undergraduate studies in China, I moved to the USA for my masters. I worked for a few years but due to a family emergency, I had to move back to China even though I really enjoyed the peaceful and easygoing culture in North America. As people set clear boundaries between work and personal life, you can enjoy quality time with family and friends. Life here is simple and not heavily competitive as compared to China. I loved the work-life balance here. I moved to Canada to pursue a two-year Graduate Certificate in Business Insights and Analytics at Humber. I love the program, especially the statistics course.

Humber offers several opportunities for international students to work part-time while studying. I have been working as a peer tutor at Humber where I help my peers solve any obstacles, ask questions and understand concepts in their studies. I applied through Humber’s Job board website and soon had an interview.

In my spare time I teach Chinese students Supply Chain Management courses online and enjoy coding. I have recently finished my third semester and excited to start an internship soon.

Moving to a different country and starting life from scratch can be challenging especially as a mature student because you have to adjust back to student life after working as a professional. In the beginning things were a little difficult; I knew I had to step out of my comfort zone and start interacting with others. I was very active back home and I wanted to stay the same, so I decided to join the gym and Carnival Spice Caribbean dance classes at Humber.

Youngju (Chloe) Lee  Seoul, South Korea
Ontario Graduate Certificate, User Experience (UX) Design

I love marketing and I am passionate about design. I realized marketing without design, doesn’t go as far. So, I started learning design by watching YouTube videos and taking online courses. But I was looking for a professional program, so I chose UX design at Humber. I enjoy combining a psychology perspective and incorporating it in UX design. My dream job is to become a UX design manager where I lead a team and share my knowledge.

Gabi Hentschke  Porto Alegre, Brazil
Bachelor of International Development

I came to Canada to pursue a bachelor’s degree at Humber. Recently, I started working as the Sustainability Communications and Engagement Coordinator at the college. The active participation that the Humber community demonstrates, helped me build connections and gain experience, eventually leading to my full-time position. I am applying for my Permanent Residence after a year of full-time employment!

Sia Reynaldo Jr.  Manila, Philippines
Certificate of Achievement, Web Design and Development

The courses in my program include essential content that helped me build strong foundations in design and programming. Learning design software and programming languages like HTML, CSS and JavaScript, have given me confidence that my career will thrive after completing my studies at Humber. I am certain that the hands-on skills that I’ve gained will add to my background as an HR system and analytics professional.

Funding Your Time in Canada

Students must have a very strong understanding of the cost of funding a Humber education in Canada. You need to have enough funds for your fees and living expenses, without support from elsewhere. It is important that you understand that your best chance of success in Canada, both on and off campus, will result from you preparing well for the financial realities of living in Toronto.

Humber wants you to be successful in and out of the classroom, and so, if you are unsure about your financial stability in Canada as a student, we recommend that you speak with a Humber representative and consider waiting until the required financial resources are in place to come to Canada.

DIPLOMA, HEATING, REFRIGERATION AND AIR CONDITIONING

Mickael is a winner of the Barrett Family Foundation Entrance Scholarship. I completed my Master’s in Engineering and Industrial Systems and gained more than two years of work experience in Jamaica. I came to Canada to study and faced financial hardship during my studies. I applied for the Barrett Family Foundation Entrance Scholarship in the fall, and I got a positive response in November. It has helped me pay for the second year of my program, without it I might not have been able to continue studying. I am looking forward to getting a job in the field and eventually moving to engineering.
